The Birth of the RCB Twin Red Dragon By Jean Cordalis

2016 S1000 XR

I bought my F800GT at A&S, so I knew about RCB but had never ridden with them. I've been an MOA member since I got my bike, but I mostly read the magazine; I didn't personally know or ride with any other BMW riders. After Rich, my husband and riding partner, was severely injured in an accident, I was looking for people to ride with, so I thought I'd go to a Saturday meeting and ride and see what RCB was all about. I didn't know anybody in the club. I got up early on New Year's Day, plugged in my heated gear and rode off to Susie's. When I got there a woman in the parking lot on a red XR enthusiastically greeted me; it turned out to be a case of mistaken identity, but I didn't know that and thought, what a friendly club!

Well, I wasn't wrong; I spent that sunny cold New Year's Day, and many days riding with RCB since. I was super-excited to discover there were several other women members and that there were even quarterly women's rides and luncheons! I joined right away and club members have ridden with me, helped me work on my bike (looking at you Al), helped me pick up my bike when it took an unexpected nap (looking at you Tracy and Al), teased me mercilessly about dropping my bike on a club ride.

I'll never forget the day Tracy [Tracy Buchanan] (when I barely knew her) pulled up on her XR said "hey you wanna ride my bike?". That was all it took; it was gameover for my F800 right then. Within a week I was the owner of an identical bike and we've spent many happy miles out in the foothills on our bright red XRs. We call ourselves The Twins but some call us the Red Dragon Lady Riders (looking at you Ray).

It sounds so corny to say joining a motorcycle gang, er I mean club, has enhanced my life so much but it's true. Anytime I meet a BMW rider who isn't a member, I talk up our great club.
